Rooted in Spirits • Lingshu Chapter 8 Part 2
&
The Concept of Time in Classical Chinese Medicine

with Elisabeth Rochat de la Vallé

April 21, 2016

9:00 AM to 5:30 PM • Petaluma CA

7 hours acupuncture CEU's pending

This workshop is a unique opportunity to study with an international authority on Chinese medicine. In the morning we will examine and discuss the second part of chapter 8 of the Lingshu, Rooted in Spirit, with a focus on the Chinese text as a key to enhancing our practice of Chinese medicine. The morning program is part of our ongoing Neijing Series Study Group and is open to all interested students.

The afternoon presentation will focus on gaining a deeper understanding of the concept of timeliness and the rhythms of time in classical Chinese thought. This idea plays such an important role in Chinese medical thought that a comprehensive understanding of its significance is sometimes stated as one of the most important keys to effective treatment.
